"And now I award you this Mickey Mouse watch!"

"I'll have a Coke and a few of these fireballs here!"

"I told you once and I won't tell you again!" Glenda Long helps out a fellow Cobol student.

The "NO FISHING" signs don't seem to bother some dedicated fishermen.

Bob Blackwelder, Electronic Data Processing instructor, prepares himself for all kinds of surprises ... even sneaky photographers!

RTC's own version of the Rockettes.

"There ought to be a law against fattening foods."

Jennipher Love, Vallant advisor, spends lots of time getting information for the staff.

*"Name, rank, serial number?"
Gina Woodall prepares to give blood.*

*"All right you knuckleheads!
I want 500 push-ups on the double!"*

Ben Chavis finds time to relax during his Applications class.

"I told you not to get on that roof!" Neill Graham leads a group during field day.

"Hey, what can I say?!"

Lynn Evans tried to find helpful information for one of her students.

A Day of Fun

For Everyone

*"I'm just a coalminer's son."
Rufus McLean shows
his stuff
on field day.*

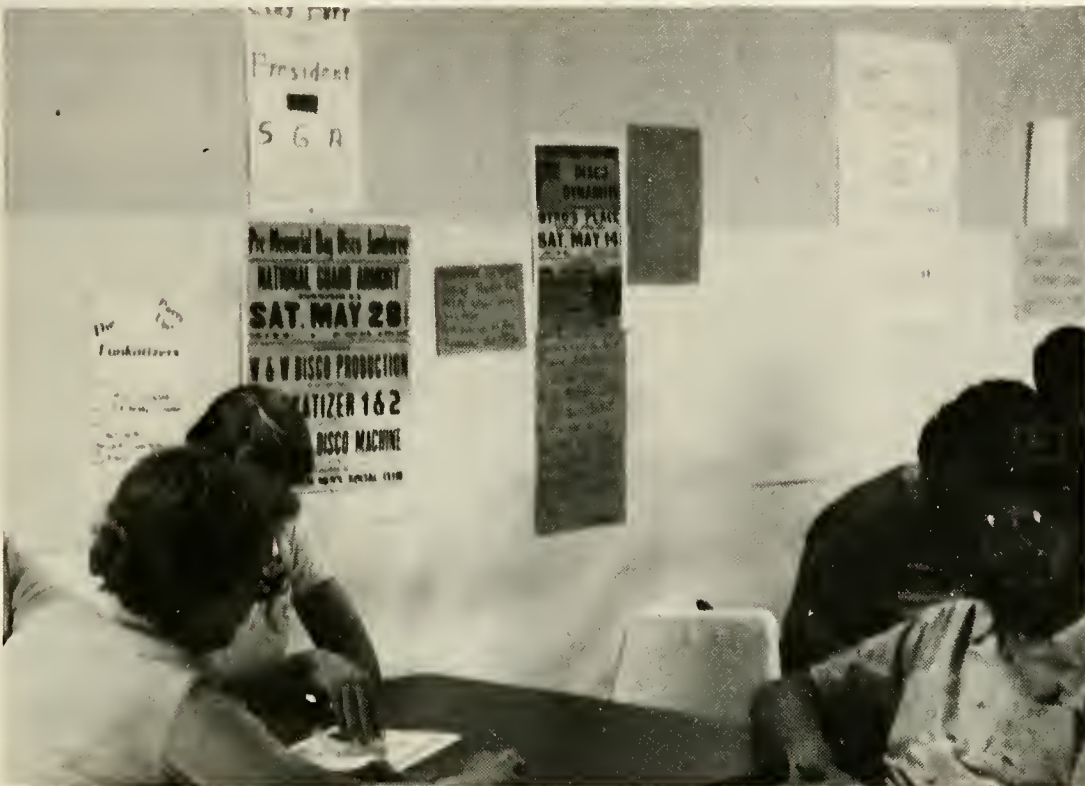

*"Oh no! I broke a fingernail!"
Donna rests during field day.
If they shake them any harder,
they'll fly off!!*

Terry Hamm gets caught in the act as she copies someone else's Cobol program.

The blood donor drive is just one of the community projects that RTC sponsors.

"Don't ask me! I have no idea what they're doing!"

"Let me out!" Sam Reep sits in the dunking booth on field day.

Neill Graham, Vallant and Gamma Beta Phi advisor, does business transactions when he isn't teaching a business class.

*Brock Honeycutt plays "astro

"We decided to let our true selves show." David Adelmy and Carol Dodd show their Halloween spirit.

"This is an odd way to arm wrestle!"

"And now for the winner of the Large Bass Contest!"

*"How do you turn this thing on?"
Angela Almon works on the TRS-80.*

"I'll get you, turkey!" Carol Dodd points her finger at the culprit.

"This is so disgusting!" Lee Opata watches field day activities.

"Hi there!" Pam Nelson has a great time at field day.

"You must be kidding!" Iris Smith gets caught by surprise.

*In Memory Of Ray C. Shaw
1930-1983*

Mr Shaw served Richmond Technical College as a math instructor, a Director of Continuing Education, a Vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees and, most of all, a friend He will be missed.

Faculty

Full Time Teacher Of The Year

This year's selection for Teacher of the Year is a woman who is not only prominent here at Richmond Tech, but also in her community. Abbie Covington has the stamina to get things done and the ability to make those things fun. Her friendly personality and warm smile makes her the well thought of person that she is. As a teacher, she is one of the best, striving for excellence not only from her students, but also from herself. She is always willing to help her students, even during her spare time. It would be hard to find a more caring and understanding person than Mrs. Covington. She's always fair and kind, not only to her students, but also to her fellow faculty members. She is an inspiration to all of us.

Part Time Teacher Of The Year

This year's Part-time Teacher of the year is truly a friend to students, a compassionate guide, and an empathetic counselor. Lynn Evans is spirited, enthusiastic, and joyful. She's an advocate for the student, warm hearted, friendly, and helpful. The classroom is where she needs to be, creating her ideas for others. She's a role model, traditionalist, a supporter of family, church, and community. She has touched the spirit of learning in so many students. Mrs. Evans is truly a beautiful person, always giving her gift to humanity through education. Versatility and warmth are her marks.

Dedication

Every now and then we meet and know a rare individual whose life exemplifies personal and professional integrity, genuine concern for others, and dedication to service. Such a person becomes a standard by which we measure ourselves and our humanity.

For over sixteen years the faculty, staff, and students for Richmond Technical College have been enriched by their association with Diane Honeycutt. No one has known her and been untouched. She truly personifies all that is best of the school and of its spirit.

"Pigout"

During the years, many things at Richmond Technical College have changed, but one thing that has remained at our school is the desire to eat. As evident in these pictures, faculty and staff alike have the tendency to indulge themselves whenever possible and have even included students in some of these festivities. Although our school may change in some ways we will always be assured that someone will carry on the tradition.

*Oldies . .
But Goodies*

Curricula

Richmond Technical College, in its 20 year history, has become more than just a school. For many, it is a home away from home. Some students and faculty are seen on campus day and evening, always busy at one thing or another. Thanks to dedicated people like this, Richmond Technical Institute became an accredited college, offering the public an education. RTC offers a General Education Development program which gives any adult the chance to gain the equivalency of a high school diploma. Continuing Education classes are offered to people interested in anything from cooking and crafts to furniture and music. Those who desire a one - or two - year degree in nursing can find what they need at RTC. Finally, RTC offers twenty-four curricula, ranging from Electrical Installation and Maintenance (Vocational) to Accounting (Technical). A General Education curriculum is designed for those who wish to transfer to another college, and the Personal Achievement Curriculum gives a student the chance to sharpen skills before entering the curriculum of his choice. On the next few pages you will find a sampling of the life students in these curricula have faced throughout the past few years.

Richmond
Technical College

!@?*$@!!

Why?

Richmond Technical College is a comfortable, yet interesting college to attend. The campus is located away from the highway and has its own lake. Many times, especially after the weather warms up, students spend their breaks outside enjoying the fresh air and view of the lake rather than staying inside the student lounge. The campus grounds are well taken care of, and very seldom does one see any litter. Richmond Tech students take pride in their school and they show it.

With its twentieth school year, Richmond Technical College saw quite a few changes within its walls. Students voted to change the school colors, which were previously green and gold, to maroon and gray. RTC became computerized, which made registration much easier for everyone. Grade reports began to look more like bills rather than our usual reports. Pre-registration was done on cards rather than on layers of paper. New equipment was purchased for different areas of the school. Richmond Tech's twentieth anniversary was one to be proud of with such changes, making our school what we feel is one of the best.

We, the editors of this year's Valiant, would like to express our appreciation to all the individuals who played a role in creating our 1984 yearbook. Without these people, we may never have made it. Special thanks go to the following people:

Chuck Lowery, for all the much needed photographs and for the time spent working with our photographer

Darrell Shortt, for keeping us updated on school events and for his continuous help

Anne Morris, for pulling us through at the end

Roy Smith, for his help with the ad sales

Michael McDuffie, for his continuous support

Lynn Evans, for brightening our day and for her constant support and compliments

Naomi Daggs, for being our walking dictionary and school information center

Thanks for all the people who contributed, however small the part. Hopefully, somewhere among these pages there's a memory captured for everyone involved with Richmond Technical College. After serving for two years on the staff, we've gained an insight on the importance of teamwork, no matter how small the team. We are looking forward to graduation in September and hopefully someone will pick up the Valiant where we left off. GOOD LUCK!

*Gloria Chavis
Mike Williams*

What you see on this page is only a small example of what we, the editors of this year's Valiant, see all year. We've tried to capture the memories of Richmond Tech students throughout the rest of this book, but this page captures our memories. All the things you see here had at least a small role in creating our 1984 Valiant. Most people never see a yearbook before its production and don't realize the work it involves. So as you are looking through your annual remember how special you and your memories of Richmond Tech are to us!

Congratulations Cora Davis

Cora Davis, secretary to the Director of Curriculum Programs, was named "Richmond County Secretary of the Year". The award was presented May 16 during the annual Secretaries Day sponsored by the Richmond County Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Davis is truly a special person, as was shown by Dr. Diana Henshaw when she recommended Mrs. Davis to be chosen for the honor. Dr. Henshaw is quoted as saying, "She never misses deadlines or allows work to get behind. She functions as the 'right hand' in the true sense by working independently with great accuracy, quickly and efficiently - always with good nature. She is a superior coordinator exercising tact, humor, and judgment in maintaining harmony with others. She is outstanding in her professional demeanor and dress and presents an excellent role model for those around her. She is always cheerful and helpful and offers suggestions for improving procedures.

Special Thanks To Mr. Roy Smith

*And His Fall Quarter
Sales Class*

Registration

The logo consists of three stacked, stylized 'R' characters. Each 'R' is formed by multiple parallel black lines, creating a sense of depth and movement. The lines are arranged in a way that suggests a circuit or a series of connected paths.
